

INDIVIDUALIZED AND TRADITIONAL MEMBERS OF A COMMUNITY

IN HIGH SCHOOL FARMER SCIENCE

University of Wisconsin
Madison, Wisconsin

In Press

Parents for the Deaf

of the People

March 1984

MA
DE
40
.L
C1

ABSTRACT OF THESIS

The purpose of this study was to examine and describe the factors of individual, social, organizational, and psychological characteristics of high school earth science classes. A second objective of the study was to examine the effects of the characteristics of the students on the

_____

_____

Handwritten text, possibly a date or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.

Handwritten text, possibly a title or a specific reference.